OUR HOUSE ROCKS

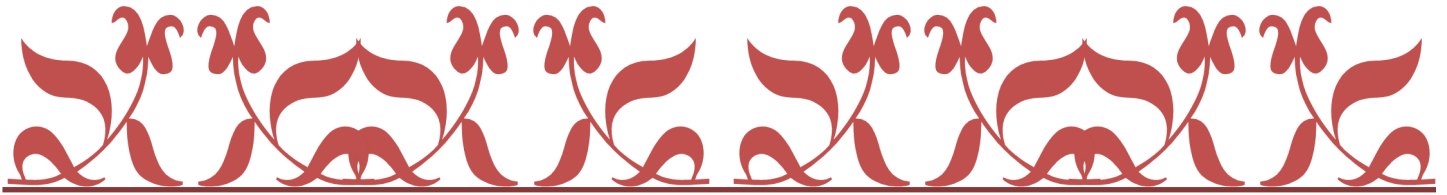

Hard to believe that 2018 has already passed and we are into 2019. Here is an update on what's happening at the Warburg Curling Centre. First and foremost I would like to thank the Breton District Fish and Game and the Breton Oil Men for their generous donations. Both were put to upgrading our concession. The curling club has had an amazing start to the season. First off, our night leagues are full Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Our Thursday morning senior men's is busting at the seams as well. I would like to thank all the returning curlers and all the new curlers that have made the first half of the season such a great success.

The junior program is also doing well, it's good to see the new up and coming curlers thriving to do their best at a new sport. We are also looking for new coaches for this program as Mrs. Meinczinger is retiring after many years of coaching. We also have two young curlers reaching another stepping stone towards their goals and dreams. Ethan Chung and Kelsie Cygan will be competing in mixed doubles at the Provincials in February. Their ultimate goal is the Olympics. With their determination and drive to get better every time they step onto the ice, I believe they can achieve this. The four young curlers on the junior competitive team have also been very successful. Connor Hayman, Patrick Kelly, Kelsie Cygan and Ethan Chung have won the A event in every spiel they have been in this year. The last bonspiel they took the skills competition as a team, won the bonspiel, and Connor took first overall in the individual skills with a 31 out of 36. This is a great feat in itself. I look forward to seeing them play in the U18 boys qualifier. To do so Sam Goodie will be playing in Kelsie Cygan's place. I believe this combination can also reach Provincials.

I would like to thank all of our sponsors and volunteers, for without you the club would not be such a great success. A big thank you goes out to all who hogged rocks the last five weeks before Christmas, you raised $238.00 for the Christmas Hamper Program.

All the best in the New Year,

Kevin Maine
